

Arthur E Davis III (Art)

Art Davis has represented the American Escrow Association on federal legislative and regulatory matters since 1992. Art works out of the Association's DC area office in Alexandria, Virginia. Art's professional background (prior to 1992) includes 5 years as a CPA in the tax departments of both a large international CPA firm and a local firm in North Carolina. Following that time he attended and graduated from law school, which included a federal tax law-related internship. His first legal position was as an attorney-advisor within the US Treasury Department in Washington DC. During this time he worked on federal tax regulations and other tax rulings as well as participated in tax law statutory drafting sessions on Capitol Hill. He then formed his own private practice and currently handles a variety of legal matters for a range of clients. Art lives in Alexandria Virginia. He is married with three children.
