

RON MANUEL, Federal Bureau of Investigation

Supervisory Special Agent (SSA) Ron Manuel leads an FBI cyber team comprised of Special Agents, Intelligence Analysts, Computer Scientists, and other support staff at FBI Los Angeles. As part of the FBI Los Angeles Cyber Task Force, his team is responsible for investigating criminal cyber activity and other high-technology crimes impacting the greater Los Angeles area. SSA Manuel has also led international terrorism investigations and previously ran FBI LA's training program for new special agents. Prior to his employment with the FBI, he was a supply chain planner for Motorola, Inc and a U.S. Army Officer with multiple deployments. SSA Manuel received a Bachelor of Science in Computer Engineering from Drexel University.